```
Install stegano if not already installed
!pip install -q stegano

from stegano import lsb
from IPython.display import Image, display
```

```
image_path = "supramk4.jpg"  # Your original image message = "Not all horsepower is measured in engines... some in secrets!"

Encode the message into the image
secret = lsb.hide(image_path, message)
secret.save("encoded_supra_image.png")

print("✅ Message encoded successfully and saved as 'encoded_supra_image.png'.")

Display the encoded image
display(Image(filename="encoded_supra_image.png"))
```

```
✅ Message encoded successfully and saved as 'encoded_supra_image.png'.
```

```
correct_password = "EngineOfSecrets"  # Your chosen password

Ask user for password
entered_password = input("🔐 Enter password to decode the hidden message: ")

if entered_password == correct_password:
    decoded_message = lsb.reveal("encoded_supra_image.png")
    print("\n✅ Hidden message is:", decoded_message)
else:
    print("\nThe Supra keeps its silence. Wrong password.")
```

```
🔐 Enter password to decode the hidden message: EngineOfSecrets

✅ Hidden message is: Not all horsepower is measured in engines... some in secrets!
```